SUMMARY:*BACKGROUND

It has been a very busy month this month I have been working with all of the Communities and the Depot in Tennant Creek to assist in improving Service Delivery and addressing any issues that may have arisen.

We were fortunate enough to get all of the Area Managers into Tennant Creek for a recall for three days. It was great to see everyone here in Tennant Creek and the recall went very well. We had presentations from Weed Management, Infrastructure and Training and Development. We also had a very productive session with Community Development in looking at ways we can improve service delivery in our communities by working together to achieve outcomes for Barkly Regional Council. All in all it was a good productive three days which encouraged information sharing within the Council.

The Tennant Creek Depot was pleased to finally receive the new Dual Cab Hino Truck that was ordered last financial year (pictured below). By the end of the month/early November we hope to have the new Tip Truck for Elliott that was ordered at the same time.

Image supplied by Richard James

Our new water truck has finally been returned to us after being in Alice for an extended period for warranty repairs. It has been very disappointing to have had it out of service for so long. We have been advised that the problem with the transmission has now been resolved.

Tenders are currently out for a new rubbish truck and new 10 Ton Tipper.

Thanks to the new equipment we have acquired in recent years, we have recently sent a variety of old end of life equipment off to auction. It appears we will get a great return from the disposal of the old equipment.

This month I have travelled to Alpururulam, Elliott, Wutunugurra and Ali Curung. It have been good for me to be able to get out to the communities and meet with the Area Managers and our staff to assist with resolving any issues they are having. I have been well received in each community and I have enjoyed working with the team.

The Area Managers and their teams have started preparing for the wet season by keeping on top of the mowing, airstrip maintenance, fire breaks as well as keeping the communities as clean as we can. This can be a challenge if staff don't attend work regularly. The result of all this good work is that all of our communities are looking good and it is a credit to the teams on the ground for doing such a good job.

Local Authorities:

The Local Authorities have not met in the past month following Council's resolution to call for nominations. We have three sets of LA nominations for Council to consider at this meeting, with the remaining LA's still requiring more nominations to form new LA's .

Once the new LA's are formed and approved by council my priority will be to set meeting dates and get the committees up and running once more.

YOUTH, SPORT & RECREATION LA REPORT – OCTOBER 2021

Team Leader Vicki McCoy

Staff Kevin Roberts-McCoy | Benny McCoy

- Heaps of activities held over the school holidays, the kids especially liked going on bush trips chasing and catching lizards.
- Thanks to Ralph from Community Safety who came along and helped with transporting some of the kids.
- The number of participations was up and down throughout the month as there was Arlparra and Harts Range communities sporting carnivals, so this threw the program out of whack a bit, however we made the most of what we had.
- We received news that Tennis NT would be holding another Tennis competition in Tennant Creek, so we have been busy preparing the kids for that, as there are some big names coming.
- The weather throughout the month has been a bit harsh, but lucky we have the Waterpark for those hot humid days.
- It was a good month and hope to have more exciting news in the month of November.

MEMO

RE: Vaccination mandate for Barkly Regional Council elected and appointed members.

Council received communication from LGANT on the 26th of October 2021 clarifying the status of elected members under the CHO direction 55.

It is the belief of the Department of the Chief Minister and Cabinet that council members are subject to the recent directions made by the Northern Territory Chief Health Officer (CHO) regarding mandatory vaccination of workers to attend the workplace (COVID-19 Directions (No. 55) 2021 dated 13 October 2021.

The rationale for the inclusion of elected members into this mandate is based on the definition of a worker, which is very broad. The term includes (amongst other things) an activity involving physical or mental effort by a person or the application of particular skills for the benefit of another person or themselves, whether or not for profit or payment.

Guidelines for the WHS Act specifically includes, amongst the many examples of a worker, a local council.

Under the CHO Directions No. 55, council members will not be able to attend council chambers, council offices, other council workplaces or events/functions where a member performs official duties:

- from 13 November 2021 until 24 December 2021, unless the council member has received the first dose of an approved COVID-19 vaccine; and
- from 25 December 2021 onwards, unless the council member has received two doses of an approved COVID-19 vaccine.

The exception to the above rules is where a person has a medical certificate, or a certificate issued by the Commonwealth, that certifies the person has a contraindication to all approved COVID-19 vaccines.

This also applies to members of local authorities, council committees and audit committees.

In order to comply with its obligations under Part 3 of CHO Directions No. 55, Council must:

3. take steps to determine the vaccination status of elected and appointment members, and
4. maintain a register of those details.

The CHO Directions require these steps to be taken by the "person conducting a business or undertaking" (PCBU). The CEO of a council is the PCBU for the purposes of the CHO Directions and is responsible for determining the vaccination status of members and maintaining a register of those details.

Melioidosis

What is melioidosis?

Melioidosis is a disease caused by the bacteria known as Burkholderia pseudomallei. The bacteria live below the soil's surface during the dry season but after heavy rainfall are found in surface water and mud and may become airborne.

How is it spread?

The bacteria that causes melioidosis usually enters the body via cuts and sores in the skin or via inhalation of dust or droplets and very rarely by ingestion of contaminated water.

The disease has been found among some domestic and farm animals. Melioidosis does not usually spread from one person to another or from animals to humans.

Where does melioidosis usually occur?

Melioidosis is found in tropical areas throughout the world, particularly in South East Asia and northern Australia.

In Australia cases typically occur in the Top End of the Northern Territory (NT) and in far north Queensland and the Kimberley region of Western Australia. Cases have been found in the NT occasionally as far south as the Tennant Creek region.

What are the symptoms?

The symptoms of melioidosis depend on the site of the infection and this can vary. Often it starts as a chest infection with shortness of breath, productive cough and fever. Other possible presentations include fever with headache and confusion, or pain and/or difficulty passing urine. People can become ill from 1 to 21 days after being infected with either a sudden or gradual onset of symptoms. Melioidosis requires urgent medical attention and treatment with specific antibiotics as this infection can be fatal.

In some cases the illness may come on much more slowly with weight loss, intermittent fever, chest pain and a cough. People may also present with skin ulcers, boils or joint or bone infections.

There have also been cases where the disease has caused illness many years after the initial infection. In these cases, the bacteria have been carried by the person and have become active due to a weakening of the immune system.

The diagnosis of melioidosis is made by growing the bacteria with laboratory testing of blood, sputum, urine or a swab from an abscess or non-healing ulcer.

Who is at risk?

People most at risk are those with conditions such as diabetes, heavy alcohol consumption, kidney disease, lung disease, cancer and those on immunosuppressive therapy including steroids.

Healthy people can also get the disease if they work in muddy soil without good hand and foot protection. Children are at a lower risk for acquiring melioidosis compared with adults. However, it is still possible for children to acquire melioidosis during the wet season, particularly those with chronic diseases or weakened immune systems.

What is the treatment?

All patients should be admitted to hospital initially. They are treated with antibiotics,

October 2019

Centre for Disease Control – Melioidosis

which usually have to be continued for at least 3 months. If treatment is started early, a full recovery is usually possible. It is important to complete all antibiotics to prevent a relapse.

How can melioidosis be prevented?

There is currently no vaccine against melioidosis and people who have previously had the disease can get a new infection. Preventive measures to avoid contact with the bacteria are the key to avoiding infection particularly for those with any of the following risk factors:

- diabetes
- heavy alcohol consumption (>20 standard drinks a week or binge drinking)
- kidney disease
- lung disease
- cancer
- receiving immunosuppressive therapy, including steroids
- cuts or sores in your skin, particularly on the hands and feet.

The following are key preventive measures to avoid melioidosis:

- Wear waterproof shoes or boots to protect your feet when you walk in wet soil where there is pooled water, or you work in muddy conditions, including when gardening or working in excavations. Open footwear such as sandals are not good protection.

- Wear protective gloves when handling soil, particularly during the wet season.
- Wash cuts and wounds promptly and thoroughly and keep covered.
- If necessary, use pumping equipment to control water when working in excavations.
- Due to the potential for Burkholderia pseudomallei to become airborne, people with risk factors such as diabetes, heavy alcohol consumption, kidney disease, lung disease and cancer and those on immunosuppressive therapy are advised to stay indoors during periods of heavy wind and rain in the Top End.
- People using high pressure hoses around soil should cover their mouths and noses with a mask to avoid inhalation of bacteria.
- Children should avoid playing in muddy, boggy areas, wet sandpits and places where water has pooled in grassy areas. Sandpits which are dry or dry enough to comfortably play in are low risk.
- People with risk factors for melioidosis should ensure water is disinfected before domestic use (drinking and showering). Either access a town water supply, disinfect their water or use a combination of rain water and bottled/boiled water for domestic purposes.

ARE YOU AT RISK OF MELIROIDOSIS THIS WET SEASON?

OCTOBER TO MAY IS MELIROIDOSIS SEASON

Melioidosis is a disease caused by bacteria that live below the soil's surface but are found in surface water and mud after heavy rains (October to May). The bacteria may also become airborne. They can enter the skin through cuts and open wounds and can also be inhaled.

The symptoms can vary but include:

- Fever
- Cough and shortness of breath
- Skin ulcers, boils or non-healing wounds
- Headache and confusion
- Abdominal pain and/or difficulty passing urine, especially in males

Those most at risk are:

- People with diabetes
- People who consume large amounts of alcohol
- People who have kidney disease, lung disease or cancer
- People with suppressed immune systems
- People over the age of 65

Don't get melioidosis

- Wear enclosed footwear in muddy and wet conditions
- Protect your hands from cuts and scratches when working in soil or muddy settings
- Stay indoors during periods of heavy wind and rain in the Top End, particularly if you are in one of the high risk categories
- Don't overuse alcohol or binge drink
- If you have symptoms of melioidosis or if you feel generally unwell with cough and fever, seek medical attention immediately, especially if you are in one of the high risk categories
